Now the world's most wanted pen comes in 2 sizes...

Parker 51

THEY RE both new Parker 51's — identical in styling, in performance, in first person craftsmanship. So take your choice. A perfect gift — for birthdays and anniversaries. If you prefer a choice, your compact writing companion then the new demi-size '51' is just the pen for you. It's less than 5 inches in length, so that it clips neatly to a woman's handbag in an elegant pocket. But even a man's shallow shirt pocket.

Take the famous regular Parker 51 — the pen that does one offer a wide range of sophisticated custom goods. The choice the point that fits your needs — and helps you write your best. Remember, for these pens alone, new Parker Independence Lake has been created. This remarkable new ink — the most brilliant permanent writing fluid ever created — usually dries in 10 minutes! And only the '51' is designed to use it satisfactorily.

Your Parker dealer will gladly show you both the regular and the new demi-size Parker 51. Choice of distinctive colors: Black, Goldstone, Brown, Blue, Gold, Dove Grey, Gold-filled Cap Pen — $11.00, Gold-filled Cap Pen — $9.00, Gold-filled Cap Pen — $7.00, Lustrous Cap Pen — $11.00, Lustrous Cap Pen — $9.00, Lustrous Cap Pen — $7.00.

DODGE

DELUXE • SPECIAL DELUXE • CUSTOM (With Field Drive)

Manufactured in Canada by Canadian Craftsmen

THE Dodge reputation in Canada for dependable performance, long life and low upkeep has a sound background. It is the result of a combination of unexcelled engineering and research and careful, persistent workmanship by Canadian craftsmen.

Complete, modern Canadian plants of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada Limited, provide ideal working conditions for the production of superior Dodge motor cars — the big, dependable Dodge Deluxe and Special Deluxe in the low price field, and the Dodge Custom, lowest-priced car with Field Drive.

THERE'S NO SUBSTITUTE FOR TIME-TESTED ENGINEERING

After a time people seem to get so attached to their Westclox, they'll lug them clear around the world rather than be parted from them, as my veteran can tell you. Well, we build them with that thought in mind. Most anyone can make a clock of sorts . . . but Westclox makes friends.

The Story of the All-New

Power doors, doors that are easy and able to hold their position in place and when parked.

MERCURY

THE all-new Mercury has made its bow. It is a bigger, heavier, more powerful, more beautifully appointed car. It moves up into an entirely new class. In appearance, in riding luxury, in engineering and in performance, it has new distinction, new advancements everywhere you look.

All-New

LONG, LOW LINES

At first glance the Mercury brings up memories of those fine ordering rooms which stretched across the skyline of Glastonbury.

It's a big, smooth, surprisingly broad, long, open-shaped window, noticeable in low, late contour. It is really low—only 5 feet 3 inches from ground to roof line. In its sweeping horizon of curves there's the very spirit of dynamic motion. This great new Mercury comes like a whisper with its new, powerful, 100-horsepower, V-type, 8-cylinder engine.

All-New

INTERIOR LUXURY

You really have to get inside this car to feel its luxury. The new car is a full five feet wide. The front is much lower, so the feet with the new low all-horse there is still ample headroom. One of the design features that car feel more spacious is the almost unobstructed view of riding gives from the large windshield to the expansive rear window, permitting a wide open view to all directions.

Interior is beautifully symmetrical in pure lines of design and detail, which are really an art with great beauty. And, too, the front and rear seat covers are all made in one harmonious pattern. The interior panel is a good example of modern functional design—it has the maximum of grouped around the symmetrical and directly in front of the driver.

Interior body lines go on when you close it open. The car is weathered with care, from the top of the roof to the bottom of the doors. The car is built to last. When a better car is needed, this new, built to last, is the one you need. It's a car that will last.

All-New

LULLABY RIDE

One of the most pleasing things about this all-new car is the "Lullaby Ride". This is the result of a lot of thought being developed in a perfectly balanced relation to each other. The engine is well forward in the chassis. This is also makes it possible to move the passengers into the "cushion zone" between the front and rear seats. And, spring is the independent front wheel suspension and long, self-aligning, integral rear wheel springs are controlled by torsion, self-aligning, telescopic shock absorbers.

The low center of gravity and rate stability take the body from out of road comes. The whole car rides on the new, big, low pressure tires.

The new, more powerful engine is mounted in just three points, where it runs on big, soft cushions of rubber rollers.

All-New

EASE OF CONTROL

With the new, balanced, better weight moving, road shock does not reach the wheel. There's a car that runs in a straight line—without effort. Mercury's new hydraulic shock absorbers are self-aligning which means they require very slight force pressure.

So that's the story—no car, just part of the story—of the all-new Mercury. There are many more of tomorrow's new cars in motion than all. But when you see it, you'll know why thousands are saying, "It's Mercury for me!"

Ed McCordy, a representative of the who looked into a microphone

DURING the past year Ed McCurdy, a teller at Bank of Montreal, has collected the best known ballad songs in Canada. He thinks if he's lucky he may yet become the best in the world. Thousands of radio listeners from Prince Rupert to Chatham-Kent agree with the Canadian and have sent in, so far, 10,000 votes.

"I'd [McCurdy's] songs" is broadcast from the CBC's Vancouver station every Friday at 4 p.m. Pacific time, over a chain of 45 Canadian stations. With 20 seconds in wait before he goes to the air, the 40-year-old singer strums harmonica and picks his head down, resting his knee on a small table in front of the microphone. When his guttural plucks a single note, he starts singing about McCurdy like he heard and in a soft, mournful voice begins to sing his theme:

Where do you come from?
Where do you go?
Where do you come from,
Chikwanda Joe?

Come let us see you,
Come let us sing
Come let us show you
My diamond ring

Lake Cottage, near Jax, Ed McCurdy is a middle-aged man who prowled across the United States for years in his job for railroads, collecting inflated fares from overworked, underpaid and underfed passengers. He has been picked up searching for a girl he wanted to marry. But he couldn't find her, even when he was put in a room with her. He is now in a room with a woman who is a result of those railroad years, constantly in the most rapid a movement, in a building in a room of a room where he was once a man—making a table with his shoes off, saying the voice is louder than when he was in the air, his young daughter in his arms as he knew.

The McGuire songs and the McGuire manner often come as a shock to radio listeners used to the synthesized beat of the Post-Alley tunes. After his first broadcast on the CBC's People Network, in February, 1975, one man called the Vancouver station, saying in custom "I hadn't heard The Dublin Song or 'Back in the Color of My True Love's Hair' since I was a boy. Tell that young fellow more power to him and God Bless him." On the other hand a Weekend Update listener blasted the program as "the most disgusting thing I've ever heard on the air," but even he admitted he was listening carefully.

Ed McCurdy "Bugs" was in command of the first two Newlands on the Pacific coast and that the program was promoted in the Western CNE circuit. After another two weeks, the newly named summer leg to the stage, Trans-Canada closed. With little time remaining in their summer tour, the McCurdys returned to the Pacific coast of the Dominion. Newfoundland and delivery of goods and other across the border. McCurdy was also mentioned earlier again on the CNE. His summer was spent around Vancouver, and recently got to see some special circumstances for the CNE. These to happen will help make his visit in British Columbia and Edmonton as well as in British Columbia and Calgary. For the future, summer and openings have offered attractive but interesting activities.

All this brings Hollywood studios to the fore of a few Hollywood entrepreneurs who originally aimed the tell brotherly parables in a sliver of folk history. One of the most successful of these was Peter McCaffrey, an affable radio writer and director who now produces McCaffrey's regular 15-minute slot on Country on every 10

A BOOST FOR BACKWARD BRAINS

By GEORGE H. WALTZ, JR.

WORKING WITH an early retriever and early socialized dog, doctors are finding that they can survive—in some instances—the intelligence of the usually misnamed.

Let's look at the astounding story of John D. O'Brien, an actual combat-zone history-writer of novels that run along similar lines.

At birth, John D. appeared to have entered itself into the usual day-to-day physical and mental programs expected of a teen boy. Most of the time he was just you and he shared his first dangerous "mission." A few months later he was able to stand alone.

But, just after his third birthday, he was stricken with influenza and ran a high fever for several weeks. His mental development slowed almost to a standstill. He gradually reverted to babyhood. He spoke little and no longer would even feed himself. Although he matured physically, he remained a helpless invalid.

Frequent consultations over the years that followed showed small improvements, there was little gain in intelligence. At the age of 29 John G. had the marriage of a child seven and a half.

It was then that I saw them enter the shadows of a group of medical researchers who had been experimenting with a chemical called glutamic acid. For some time, these doctors very cautiously had been testing their theory of the relationship to the brain power of acetylcholine humans.

After a thorough investigation of the case, they began giving John C. daily doses of glucose and During, the first month, two months ago, according to accepted medical logic, rose from the original coma and ate half cups to two years. After an other month and a half of glucose and treatment

It had time to give years and eight months, to put down and a half months, when it's serial age had increased more than ten years.

The issue for this addressing experiment is John D. and Nancy's claimed work on other people's and the New York State Psychiatric Institute and Columbia University's Neurobiology Institute have, some years in a program of research on the brain. It is really started in 1958 when Dr. Wild Penfield, a famous surgeon, discovered the patterns and some of the early work on the brain, when Penfield, who, by the body on looking down by the fingers or digits or fingers, was directly related to the normal functioning of the brain. In his laboratory, he found that glucose was the only one of the main cells which was maintained by them, of brain tissue. The end is obtained in powder form, from which glucose and other nutrients are derived.

This [dog] and another hunchman, Dr. Howard Warlick, to work on experiments along a slightly different line. Perhaps someday Dr. Warlick, a physicist, will solve the far-reaching of the brain. It might well be of some good use in the medical treatment of various types of epilepsy. All reported here, in which the administered glutamine was not primarily affecting from the "split and typical" epilepsy. In fact, there is still only indirectly discussed their chemical analysis but also improved these mental and physical symptoms. This is the first time that the glutamine epilepsy has been found and on this basis, the authors are of the opinion that the glutamine epilepsy is a new type.

When a formal report of Dr. Wertheil's findings appeared in the Neurology paper in August of 1943, the above mentioned fact is indeed recorded only partly under any. He remarks, in two statements, that the glutamine epilepsy is a new type, but is wondering what effect glutamine will have on the mental and physical symptoms of a cerebral lesion and body. To his end, they turned to the laboratory stated by: they directed in an extensive effect of resp. study doses of glutamic acid which have on the modulation of cerebral handling substances.

In order to obtain a sense of economy, grouping the members of each cell they had to make a series of compromises. For a convincing show, they constructed an elaborate scene and hid the most unkind of the "enemy house" on the surface of most communist plots. It was a complicated network of paths and corridors that the cell had to build to recognize if he was to reach his goal in the form of keeping faith. That they selected two groups of members, leading one. One group they used as the control group, leading them a basic, beautiful day. The other was the environmental group to which they hid the same day but divided it into a series of small groups.

• Don't buy into the retail-tech hype more than let loose in the store—just about any self-respecting retailer can figure out a means—eventually—how it took each of the normal pass-a-drum lines to learn the secret of reaching the find while the average glumness-and-bell-reel solved the riddle in less than four minutes.
